“ To the Family of Elijah McClain,

Everytime I see Elijah's gentle, sweet face, I lament over the violence that ended his short life.

Our Creator was with Elijah in his last moments, and celebrates his presence in Heaven, playing the violin for dancing angels. I pray for you, that you visualize Elijah in ultimate joy where there is no racism, no conflict, no pain; and patiently waiting for you.

Elijah matters to us, and even though I never met him, he will not be forgotten. His light, forced away from our world, will be missed; and at the same time, motivate us to action.

I think about you so often, and hope your heart will be lighter to know that you are prayed for, and that you are loved.

I would like to share a poem with you:

How Beautiful to Be With God

*How beautiful to be with God
When life is fading like a dream
And in this mist-encircled shore
We march upon the unknown stream.*

*No doubt, no fear, no thankless care
But comforted by staff and rod,
In the faith-brightened hour of death
How beautiful to be with God.*

*Then let it fade, this dream called earth
When I have done my life-work here
No matter how long or short, it seems,
What matters is God's will appear.*

*I shall not fear to launch my bark
Upon the darkly rolling flood
'Tis but to pierce the mist, and then,
How beautiful to be with God.*

God bless you.
