“ I remember driving to Wyoming with Michael in his white "Sho" listening to Do or Die, getting phone calls from him when a new E-40 album dropped and going over every song. Or when he came to Vegas to introduce me to my niece for the very first time, he was so excited. I remember walking him out front to my Dad's and showing him my first street bike, Michael tells me "You want me to show you a cool trick?", why of course Michael. Gave him the keys and he went 3 feet and went off the handle bar. We spent that evening in the ER with my sister so mad at the both of us. Michael I miss you terribly man, I know your hanging with Cameron. I'll watch over Amira down here, I know you got her from from above. Fly high. Love you always and thank you for always taking care of my family.
